Title: SF State establishes new division to promote inclusion, foster dialogue

Publication Date: August 17, 2017

Summary: San Francisco State University has formed a new division to promote equity and inclusion, advance social justice, improve the campus climate for all students and facilitate intercultural and intergroup dialogue.

The Division of Equity & Community Inclusion will open its doors next week in time for the beginning of the new academic year. The office will work with student clubs and organizations and other campus partners to close the educational equity gap in support of the Graduation Initiative 2025, which seeks to raise retention and graduation rates, strengthen student learning and improve the student experience at all levels.

Manuel Alejandro Pérez will serve as the interim assistant vice president for Equity & Community Inclusion beginning Sept. 13. He most recently served as the dean of Equity Programs and Pathways at American River College in Sacramento where he supported the efforts of equity, access and support services and programs for disproportionately impacted communities for more than eight years.

Title: Warzecka asked to stabilize Slugs

Publication Date: August 17, 2017

Summary: The UC Santa Cruz athletics department has been through more spin cycles than the basketball team's gym socks over the past year. So, prior to the start of the 2017-18 school year, administrators went looking for a stabilizing force.

They believe they've found it in interim athletic director Greg Warzecka. This isn't Warzecka's first rodeo, nor is it his first stint as an interim A.D. He began his time at American River College, a community college in Sacramento, as interim A.D. before accepting a full-time position there. He retired from that in 2015. Just before coming to UCSC, he had held a job as the dean of kinesiology, nutrition and athletics and as interim A.D. at Folsom College.

Title: Will juco transfers provide Aggies with instant improvement?

Publication Date: August 18, 2017

Summary: With more than 100 players in camp, first-year UC Davis football coach Dan Hawkins has only 14 seniors in pads — the fewest number among all 13 Big Sky Conference teams. Offensive linemen Will Martin (6-3, 290, from Orange Coast College) and Sacramento City College’s Colton Lamson (6-6, 235) can provide breathers for veterans like Kyle Sulka, Julian Bertero and Ramsey Hufford.

Long snapper Alex Long (6-1, 240) is a Shasta College transfer, punter Max O’Rourke is a sophomore who toiled at American River College and Daliceo Calloway (6-0, 200), also ARC, will try to wedge his way into a crowded corps of wide receivers.
